NEWS NOTES.

A quiet election day.

We have a few more of those $5.00 corn shellers left. H. & A.

They have some very handsome frosted zinc boards at the live hardware of H. & A.

The lock and novelty works are getting in good shape, and will soon be running regularly.

The Iola Carriage Works is getting up a light phaeton for one of the leading physicians of Iola.

Mr. Warner has almost completed a commodious residence on the block just south of G. W. Apple's.

Mr. Fisher, of the Pennsylvania house, has been improving his grounds greatly, and has had his cottage newly painted.

Now that the election is over, and everybody is back to a normal temperature, literary and social matters will probably begin to boom. We hear of many things afoot for the winter's enjoyment.

The Presbyterian social which was to have been held last Wednesday night was postponed until Wednesday of next week. Come out and have a good time.

A mail route has been established from Iola to Ozark, Anderson county. Any one wishing to bid upon the same, can be furnished with the proper blanks and information at the post office.

Politics has interfered sadly with the literary clubs for the past two weeks. Hereafter they will meet regularly and pursue the even tenor of their way for the rest of the winter.

Married, Nov. 5, 1882, by J. K. Boyd, J. P., at the residence of A. H. Brown, Mr. M. D. McClure to Miss Iva E. Brown, daughter of John L. Brown. May the happy couple enjoy all the blessings of this life, and when separated by death, greet each other in that better world where sickness, pain and sorrow can never enter.

We neglected last week to mention the excursion of the high school, under the lead of Prof. Robbins and Miss Jones, on the Saturday preceding. It was a merry party, indeed, that boarded Capt. Myers' boat and sailed up the river to spend the day in hunting, nutting, and general jollification. We heard many reports, and they were all rosy in the extreme.

We must ask the pardon of our readers for letting politics engross our attention for the last two weeks to the detriment of our local page. We shall hereafter add one column to this department, and endeavor to make this distinctly a home news paper. Don't be backward about communicating to us any personal or local items that may come under your notice.

Henderson & Armine sell the Casaday Sulky plow, which for lightness of draft, quality of work and ease of management, stands unsurpassed. Ask any of the following practical farmers, whose experience will verify all we claim for it: Jas. L. Woodin, John Woodin, J. C. Harrison, H. L. Reagan, Jno. Body, A. B. Isaacs, Andrew Caldwell, Isaac Reeves, A. J. Wilson, R. J. Martin, Geo. Fockler, C. T. Osborn, Chas. F. Barth.

Young America is noted for bettering the teachings of its elders. A few of him who had heard something about Mr. Hubbell's methods, applied them last Tuesday night without waiting for returns, by levying an assessment of from fifty to one hundred per cent. of the dry goods boxes, barrels and hen coops of all the candidates in town, and making a bonfire of them.

The Iola Carriage Works have been doing a fine business for two months past having sold off all work on hand and are now building a number to order. They sold one carriage, two top buggies, and one top wagon to J. C. Hafey, of Eureka, last week; also one 'bus to the same party, and one 'bus to Abel Fisher of Iola. Their work is giving the very best satisfaction, and is being sold fifty to sixty miles from here. Several have been sold to parties at Shell City, and other points in Missouri. They are now building several to order for parties here and at Moran and Bronson.

Material is now being put on the grounds for the erection of three more fine brick buildings on the north side. Mr. Borsell, of Logansport, Indiana, will build two of them and Messrs. Fiske and Bliss, the third. The wagon shops now used by D. Robinson, will be taken down or removed, and the ground reserved for two buildings to be erected by Mr. Robinson and Mr. Richards. Work will be commenced immediately on the three first mentioned, but the other two may be delayed until spring. When these are all finished Iola will be able to boast the handsomest block of business houses in the county. Each of them will be 100 feet deep, full two stories high, and will be an addition to our town of which we may well be proud. We only wish that the other business blocks of the city were as nearly fire proof as this one will be. It looks like tempting providence to let so many frame buildings stand winter after winter in the principal business portion of the city. We have been mercifully spared a serious fire for several years; but our good fortune should not blind us to the fact that frame buildings are more liable to burn than brick. We recognize the fact that brick buildings cost money. But fire burns money, and leaves nothing to show for it, and under the circumstances, it seems to us to be unmistakably the part of prudence to stretch a point if necessary, rather than leave the wealthiest quarter of the town exposed as it now is.

Episcopal services at the Presbyterian church Sunday night by Rev. L. L. Holden.

We defy competition in the line of foot wear for men and boys. Anderson & DeClute.

The Young Ladies' Working Band are preparing for another fair and festival to be held in the city hall on Thanksgiving evening.

Our line of boots and shoes is the most complete in Allen county. Anderson & DeClute.

Come and see our line of boots and shoes. You save money by buying of Anderson & DeClute.

We have the largest and most complete line of overcoats in Allen county. Anderson & DeClute.

Mr. G. M. Brown has sold his fine farm west of the river to Mr. A. G. Boyd, brother of J. K. Boyd, of this place.

The approach of cold weather has in no wise abated the building boom. New roofs can be seen in almost every direction.

Buy a pair of the Giescke or Walker boots at Anderson & DeClute's. Every pair warranted.

We are selling overcoats and suits for men and boys for less money than ever before. Anderson & DeClute.

Recorder Fast, who recently sold his house to Mr. S. Rohrer, is building a new and larger residence near the school-house.

The K. C., L. & S. R. R. has put two new freight trains on the road. The north bound reaches Iola at 10:40 A. M.; the south bound at 3:25 P. M. The road is doing a large and increasing business.

Mr. Burns poured a pint of coal oil into a stove full of hot coals the other day, and along with the other articles of furniture was pretty considerably shaken up. It seems only a question of time when every person has his petroleum experience.

On last Wednesday morning the store of Mr. McClure, at Piqua, in which was also located the postoffice, was burned. The fire was started by a red hot stove igniting the wood work near it. We are unable to learn the losses, or further particulars.

Mrs. Elizabeth Beadle and Miss Sallie Hudson are visiting with Mrs. Cummings, at Carlyle. Mrs. Beadle the mother of J. H. Beadle, the well known correspondent and author of several works on Mormonism and kindred subjects.

Chas. Otten returned last Monday from an extended visit to Germany. After being so long away from the fatherland, he says he would find it hard to live there now. They have plenty to drink, but their bill of fare in other particulars is altogether too limited to satisfy the appetite that Kansas has given him.

We are requested to announce a meeting of McCook Post G. A. R. No. 51, at the Court House next Monday evening. We understand arrangements have been made to give the "Spy of Atlanta" here on the evenings of the 7th and 9th of December. It will be looked forward to with great interest.

Trains on the Fort Scott road were delayed several hours Wednesday on account of engine No. 2 leaving the rail while backing from Eureka to Toronto. Little damage was done to the engine and no one was hurt. The track is now clear and trains running again as usual.

On Monday last Messrs. F. and S. Shaffer arrived at Mr. L. B. Lawyer's, from McPherson county. They will spend some days viewing this part of Kansas.

Mrs. W. W. Scott came down from Lawrence last Saturday, and has spent the week with friends and relatives here.

Charlie Otten returned last Monday from the old country. He is very glad to get back to a free country where they have plenty to eat, and says he couldn't be hired to live in Germany.

Gen. Jasper Packard, revenue agent in charge of the division embracing Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska and Iowa, with headquarters at Omaha, arrived in town on the 7th on a general canvass of this collection district. He left for Fort Scott on the 8th.

Mr. Wm. Lawyer, a banker of Westminster Md., and Mr. Samuel Lawyer, uncle and brother of Mr. L. B. Lawyer, with whom they have been visiting for ten days, started home on Monday the 30th. Like all our visitors they expressed themselves highly pleased with Kansas, and said that on their return home they would repeat Greeley's advice to every young man, "go west."
